GIANTS ANNOUNCE TENTATIVE 2013 REGULAR SEASON SCHEDULE

San Francisco Will Play AL East In Interleague and Four Rivalry Games against Oakland

SAN FRANCISCO, CA – The San Francisco Giants are scheduled to begin their 2013 campaign at the Los Angeles Dodgers on Tuesday, April 2 and play their home opener against the St. Louis Cardinals on Friday, April 5, the club announced today.

Following a brief three game road trip to Los Angeles from April 2-4, the Giants will return to the Shores of McCovey Cove for their first homestand of the year, a three-game series vs. the Cardinals (April 5-7) and a three-game set against the Colorado Rockies (April 8-10).

The 2013 baseball schedule has undergone significant changes necessitated by the move of the Houston Astros from the National League to the American League. There will now be at least one interleague game every day of the season (including opening day and the final regular season game).

In previous years the Giants played 18 games against each of their four National League West rivals – Arizona, Colorado, Los Angeles and San Diego – they will now play 19 games against each of those teams.

The Giants will face the American League East in interleague, playing a home-and-road series with the Toronto Blue Jays (May 14-15 at Rogers Centre; June 4-5 at AT&T Park), a home series with the Baltimore Orioles (August 9-11) and Boston Red Sox (August 19-21) and road series with the Tampa Bay Rays (August 2-4) and New York Yankees (September 20-22). A four-game series between the Giants and A's will take place May 27-30, with the first two games at AT&T Park (May 27-28) and the next two at Oakland Coliseum (May 29-30).

Additional highlights of the San Francisco Giants' 2013 campaign include:

- 13 home weekends in all, including a pair of weekend sets against the Dodgers (May 3-5; July 5-7) and one against the Cubs (July 26-28) and Orioles (August 9-11).
- The longest homestand of the season is a 10-game set from May 3-12 against the Dodgers (May 3-5), Phillies (May 6-8) and Braves (May 9-12). Their shortest home stand is a brief two-game series against the Blue Jays, June 4-5.
- The Giants will face the Dodgers three times at AT&T Park: May 3-5, July 5-7 and Sept. 24-26.
- The Giants will play 14 of 16 games on the road from May 29-June 16 and will have a pair of 10-game road trips from June 24-July 4 (at Los Angeles, Colorado, Cincinnati) and Sept. 12-22 (at Los Angeles, New York-NL, New York-AL). They spend an entire week in New York City, playing the Mets (Sept. 17-19) and Yankees (Sept. 20-22).
